|----------------------------------|--|---|
| Ongoing Programs | Community Volunteer Income Tax Program | We are still seeking volunteers to run a clinic in Port Elgin. |
| | Me You and a Book Too | Printing of new materials has been delayed by printer until December. Arrival expected December 14. We have handed out 920 bags since the program's inception. |
| November Programs | David Chapman - November 15 & 22 | 100% of survey respondents to David's presentations in 2018: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • learned something that was helpful • intend to apply what they learned • felt more confident about what they learned • were more aware of resources |
| | Fall Prevention Displays | Public Health provided information and materials for libraries to make available to the public about preventing falls in and outside the home. |
| December/January Programs | Food for Fines December 1-8 | Our annual Food for Fines campaign runs the first week of December. One food donation will earn $2.00 off accumulated overdue fines (up to a total of $10.00). |
| | "Will & Jake" - January 15, 23, 31 | Walkerton, Port Elgin and Chesley branch Story Times welcome guest reader, Jenny Raspberry in January. Jenny's book was written with and in support of a group of parents that have children with Down's Syndrome. Will & Jake is a beautiful story of how everyone has strengths to celebrate, regardless of the number of chromosomes they possess. |
| | Shelfie Day - January 23 | Library staff and public are encouraged to show their Library Love by taking a "Shelfie" in the library and sharing their photos with us on social media. |
| | Family Literacy Day - January 29 | Library branches will work with local EarlyON staff to provide partnered literacy-based programming for families. |
